Lester L. Hill To Succeed H. L. Thurston in City

REV. HERSCHEL L. THURSTON

A surprise change of pastors which affect the local Methodist Church will be made on November 1st, when Rev. H. L. Thurston will go to Colorado City to assume the pastorate of the First Methodist Church. The pastor in that city was forced to resign his work due to repeated heart attacks.

Rev. Lester L. Hill is coming here from an Abilene charge to assume the pastorate of the local church. Rev. Hill is well known in Canyon. He and Mrs. Hill are ex-students of West Texas State. During World War II while Rev. Hill served as a Chaplain in the Navy, Mrs. Hill and children resided in Canyon. Upon his return from the Navy, Rev. Hill was assigned as the first pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in South Amarillo.

Rev. and Mrs. Thurston have lived here for a little more than two years. He succeeded Rev. Hubert Thomson as pastor of the local church. His work has been highly creditable to the local church and his promotion to Colorado City came as a distinct surprise at this time.

Cannot Upset Laws Nature in Dealing With Conservation

Dr. Robert Busteed of the Science Department of West Texas State spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon on conservation. He traced the history of many birds and animals which had been changed from their native haunts and showed that men had found that this method would not work as indicated.

Those who raise poultry find that disease increases as numbers grow. The English Sparrow was imported into this country and became a nuisance until methods were found to import a check. Now the Starling threatens to become a menace.

The rag weed was imported and has become a menace. The citrus crop was threatened by scales until a check was likewise imported. When balance of nature is upset, disaster follows.

Rabbits were shipped from Kansas to Pennsylvania as game. It was discovered that the rabbit population was not increasing until it was found that the ground hog was the key to the situation. This lowly animal was conserved, and the rabbits increased.

Alabama set aside a large breeding ground for wild geese. But when the breeding lake was enlarged and the water deepened, the geese disappeared. The muskrats held the key.

Men must know and understand the laws of nature before there can be conservation of wild life. Those who keep poultry understand this. We shall only have real conservation when we observe these laws, stated Dr. Busteed.

Truett Hull, Jr., was introduced as a new member of the club.

Holmes Ambrose urged local people to buy their tickets for the Marine Band concert on the night of Oct. 29. All tickets for the afternoon concert have been taken.

Visitors were Guy Hobson of Denver; Jack Copeland of Carlsbad; Forrest Barnes, W. W. Rusk, Joe J. Martin, Chas. Wolflin, J. J. Sanders, J. F. Brown, Vern Gensemer, Lowell Munday, E. L. Roberts, Bill DeFee, all of Amarillo.

He had a number of requests ready to mail today, especially from members of the armed forces in Korea.

Mrs. Otis Crowell and son of Flomont visited with friends in Canyon Saturday.

Waggoner said the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is going all out in this convention in order to pull representatives from all types of business and other organizations possible. American Legion Starts Drive for Members Oct. 20

Legionaires from more than 800 Texas American Legion posts with a slogan, "Level for the Legion" will put on their caps and go out and seek other veterans for their organization, Monday, October 20 which has been proclaimed by Gov. Allan Shivers and a number of mayors as "L Day."

What the local post plans to do in observing this day is to get out a large number of letters to Legion members both past and present. It is hoped that new interest will be created in the activities of the post and also that membership can be brought up to date so that more important business can be taken care of. Post Commander Leroy Moreland said all those who are eligible to become members are invited to come out and see what is going on in the local organization.

Monday, the 20th, was set as the date because at that time another fiscal year begins for the American Legion. It will be the beginning of the 36th year for the largest veterans organization in history.

Albert Brown, of Austin, new American Legion department commander, urges every Legionaire to dedicate "L Day" to playing up the principles of the organization. The drive is directed by Ed Riedel, former state commander and now chairman of the Legion's post activities and membership committee.

Homecoming Floats In Canyon's Parade Saturday As Viewed By Record-Breaking Crowds

Floats, bands and special events entries make their way about the court house square Saturday in a colorful Homecoming Day parade. Beautiful floats, beautiful girls, colorful bands, and happy exes of West Texas State College made the day thrilling for all those who were present. Although the wind appeared to threaten the activities early Saturday morning, it declined before the parade started and became perfect for the occasion. It was a fine day for the Buffs all the way around as they dropped the New Mexico Aggies that afternoon 45 to 7. The first float is that of Taylor & Sons, first place winner in its division; second is the Physical Education Majors; third, Future Homemaker float. First float on the second row is the Canyon Steam Laundry; second is Kappa Tau Phi, and third is Randall Motors. First float in third row is Pi Omega; second is Aggie Rodeo Club (first place winner in its division); third is H. R.'s Greenhouse. On the bottom row are entries of Randall Hall, Canyon Rainbow Girls, and finally the Borger High School Band.

C-C Announces Prize Winning Floats in Parade

Saturday was a wonderful day for a parade and Canyon had all the exciting color an excellent Homecoming could provide. For awhile it looked as if the wind would ruin most of the floats that were to be in the West Texas State College and Chamber of Commerce sponsored parade. However, the wind died down and only one float was reported as being kept out of the parade due to the wind. That was the float of The Canyon News.

This year the floats were placed in three categories and judged by persons from neighboring towns. Only the first float in each category won a cash prize but first, second and third places were selected in order to let the people who had floats know where they stood. The $150 given in prize money was supplied by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

E. M. (Mutt) Myers was chairman of the float committee and he gave the checks to the first place winners. First place winner and the float to receive the $75 check for the non-commercial float category was the entry of the Aggies Rodeo Club. It was sponsored by the Myers Farm Equipment Store. Second place winner in this category was the Future Homemakers float sponsored by the Thompson Hardware Company. The Lions Club float received third place.

In the commercial float category the first place winner that received the $50 check was the Taylor & Sons float. H. R.'s Greenhouse was second and the Canyon Steam Laundry was third.

First place winner for the special event was the Tri Tau's bucking car. The fraternity received a $25 check for their entry. The second best entry as selected by the judges in the special event category was that of Randall Hall and the third was the entry from the Stevens Floral Shop.

No Oil Under Tidelands Says Rayburn—Stealing Is Issue

Sam Rayburn is fearful that he will not be re-elected Speaker of the House of Representatives in the next Congress. Sam likes his job. He likes to rule over the House and direct legislation. He seldom makes a speech in the House. The Speaker does not have to worry his brain about such trite details.

Sam is now head of the Stevenson-Sparkman organization in Texas. He says that Texas is safe in the arms of Democracy—that is, the kind of Democracy which Sam likes—the dictator kind.

Sam makes a fight on the tidelands issue in Texas. While Governor Shivers and Senator-elect Price Daniel have broken relations with Governor Stevenson over the tidelands steal, Sam now says that there is no oil under the land after all. He would convince us that regardless of all the surveys which have been made of the potential oil property, that oil is the elusive material, and has escaped the people of Texas. He makes light of the billions of dollars which Texans have envisioned coming from the tidelands of the state for the benefit of Texas schools.

Let it be remembered that it was only a few weeks ago that Senator Sparkman of Alabama, vice-president candidate on the Democratic ticket, was building school buildings all over the nation as a result of this oil money. What a sad awakening! The people will now have to dig deeper in their pockets to build these school houses.

President Truman has said that the reason he favors federal ownership is that the State of Texas does not have the facilities to handle all of the oil which will be pumped out of the territory. He raises prejudice in the minds of the common people by saying that this is big operations, and that only the major companies have the money to develop the field. He shows his ignorance of the oil business throughout the nation. The majors have control of all major oil fields, and the days of wild catting, with its wasteful, expensive, methods are gone forever. Thank you, Mr. President, but Texas officials have taken care of the oil situation—and let it be recalled, Mr. President, that this oil money has gone into the State's treasury, and not into the pockets of the Washington grafters who are appointees of the President.

Whether Texas ever receives one penny, or 100 billion dollars from oil undr the tidelands is beside the question. This land was given to the State of Texas when it joined the Union. Harry Truman is the first President who has even suggested that the federal government steal these lands and take over the oil business. The tidelands smell like oil, therefore Harry has an interest.

The federal government should be as honest with the people as it demands that the people be honest with the government.

Two Amendments Will Appear at Bottom of November Ballots

When you vote on November 4th, do not overlook the two constitutional amendments which are printed at the bottom of the ballots.

In years past it was found that a lot of Texas voters failed to express an opinion upon these amendments.

The first amendment has twice been rejected by the voters. This amendment would set up machinery for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of cities, towns and villages. The argument is made that it is silly for the State of Texas to require Workmen's Compensation Insurance from everyone else but itself. The State does some very foolish and silly things; for instance, refusing to carry any kind of fire or loss insurance on its buildings; own cars for those who must use them in travel; and on, and on. Since this amendment has been rejected in the past, it will likely be rejected again.

The second amendment would authorize the State to make loans to medical students if they would agree to practice in rural communities. This is an opening wedge for Socialized Medicine. We are opposed to this amendment. We see no difference in making loans to medical students, than making loans to preachers, teachers, newspaper men, or any other class of professions. This amendment would set up a system of snoopers who would be forced to keep their eye on doctors from now on out.

While there may be a distinct demand for rural doctors in Texas, every professional man must be free to settle where he pleases and practice his trade or profession where he pleases.

Governor Shivers Announces That He Will Vote for Ike

Governor Shivers has announced that he would introduce General Eisenhower in San Antonio and would vote for him. Senator-elect Price Daniel will vote for Eisenhower. All state candidates accepted the draft of the Republican party to run for election on the GOP state ticket, with the sole exception of John White, candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Agriculture.

The General Election ballot this year is a mess. It is one of the largest ballots ever presented to the voters, with eight columns.

The first ticket is the Democratic; the second is Republican. Then comes the Prohibition and Progressive Parties. The fifth party is named the Christian Nationalist Party, headed by General MacArthur and Jack B. Tenny; while the sixth party is dubbed the Constitution Party, likewise headed by MacArthur, with Vivien Kellems. The last two columns are headed Independent, and Write-in, both blank throughout.

You may vote as you please, but PLEASE vote in the November 4th election.

No Truce in Korea As Americans Pick Up and Walk Out on Talks

At long last truce talks have broken off in Korea.

After 15 long months of wrangling, Americans walked out leaving the commies free to talk as they please. In the meanwhile the commie forces have greatly increased.

What surprises us is that it took 15 months for the administration to find out that the commies were a bunch of liars, whom no one could believe under any circumstance. We wonder about the future? Will we still be called upon to furnish 90% of the troops and 95% of the money to carry on Truman's "police action" in Korea?

True or False Is Question in Matter of National Prosperity

We have been wondering about this great national prosperity of which President Truman is talking so much, and bragging about. Governor Stevenson says that under Democratic administration this prosperity will continue, while under Republican rule, a depression will result.

Let's see:

Naturally prices have gone up, and up.

Money has gone down and down. The dollar is worth only 53 cents today as compared with 100 cents before the war.

This has brought prosperity. There is more money to be handled, with higher prices and higher wages. It is a war time prosperity, with millions of men under arms, in training and getting ready for service. Munitions plants have big orders to be filled during future months, with high wages, and high prices for materials. Sure, we have prosperity.

On the other hand, the highest income tax in the history of the nation has been imposed. Other taxes have of necessity gone up. Public salaries have had to be raised in order to keep up with the trend of the cost of living.

It would seem, therefore, that the cost of government, and the cost of living is taking away the results of every man's labor. Yet he has the pleasure of handling large amounts of money—more money than he ever handled before.

As a matter of fact, if you will check with any business man, outside the defense plants, he will tell you that he is making less money than ever before. The cost of operation has advanced much more than the increased income.

Take a look at the cattle business. Thousands of cattle producers and traders have gone broke, when 40 cents per pound cattle dropped down to near the 20 cents mark. You say that the drouth is responsible. Maybe so. But the price of beef has not materially reduced due to the high cost of operation.

Every newspaper that we have checked with reports that the business of 1952 will excel all records—but when the bills are paid at the end of the year the owners will have less money than ever before. Why? Simply because it takes more money to operate than ever before.

Those of us who are able to work, and run a business, or to labor in the factory are not to be pitied. We can live. But what about the thousands of elderly persons who are on a small income, either through investments, or on pensions? While their cost of living has advanced, what about their incomes? Have they advanced? No indeed.

All in all, we see nothing to brag about in the way of great prosperity, and certainly with the huge sums of money which we are giving away, as a nation we can see little chance for future improvement.

It's fun to handle money—but what about the amount that you keep?

Whistle Stopping Truman Dips Deep in the Vat of Mud

President Truman ends up his whistle stop campaign across the nation and is ready for another trip. He likes the rough and tumble debate on public issues.

The trip reveals the one thing that was told to The Canyon News by a delegate to the Chicago National Convention—that Stevenson was Harry's boy from the very start, and that the delegates had been hoodwinked into accepting him as a candidate on the national ticket.

The battle on the entire Truman trip was between Truman and General Eisenhower. Harry bragged on himself and his administration. He used his time in condemning the General rather than talking about Governor Stevenson.

What will the results be? You will have to await Nov. 4th.

The newspaper men on the trip say that the crowds showed less enthusiasm for Truman than in 1948; and more for Eisenhower, when he followed the President. Three Senators were assigned the job of following Truman by a day or two and giving the voters a different picture than the President painted.

We have no idea as to what was accomplished. But we resent the twisted truths which the President put out and the mudslinging during his campaign.

Stevenson was the forgotten man as the battle raged between Truman and Ike. Even Old Bob Taft was delegated to the rear by Truman as he poured it on the General.

"Give 'em Hell" Never Won Any Kind of Political Feud

We were quite surprised the other day when a good customer approached the Newsman with the proposition: "Give that fellow h---- in the next issue of The News for his insinuations and half truths."

This is a Democracy when every voter has the right to his own opinions. He may be right; and he may be wrong. We admit that even the Newsman may be right; and often is wrong in his opinions.

If we were not convinced that Truman was running Stevenson and would be dictating his policies, we would feel better about his race. He is a polished speaker, the best in the campaign, but may be talking over the heads of his audience. We wish that we might hear both Eisenhower and Stevenson when they visit Texas but this is unlikely.

We are convinced that General Eisenhower was badly advised by his followers when they urged him to get into the race. They had not counted on the mud which Truman was capable of throwing.

Texas May or May Not Go for Eisenhower in November Vote

No, we have not changed our minds about Texas still remaining in the Democratic column, but we were somewhat mystified by a report received first hand Wednesday from state-wide visitors who know their politics. This report placed Texas in the Eisenhower column by a safe majority.

It was reported that a record vote will be cast on November 4th. The cities of Texas will be carried by Eisenhower by large majorities. There is suspicion of Stevenson due to the fact that he is so close to Truman.

When asked about the cotton farmers of Texas, the reply was that the farmers are just as disgusted with the Truman spending as the business men.

We shall see what we shall see.

DUCK A BABY SITTER

Lincoln, Nebr. —"Deacon," the pet duck of Mrs. H. R. Pierce, has taken on the duty of baby-sitting for Mr. and Mrs. Don Dimaio, who live in an apartment at the Pierce home. The duck has set an imaginary boundary in the front yard in which it keeps the 1-year-old Dimaio baby confined. If Frankie attempts to wander beyond the boundary, the duck jumps in front of him and quacks until the child turns the other way.

Buffalo Bills Resurrect Old Victory Bell

If all goes well during this year's Homecoming football game, an old tradition will be revived. The Victory Bell donated to West Texas State College in 1940 by the Santa Fe Railroad district office in Amarillo will ring again after several years silence.

The Buffalo Bills, men's service organization on the campus, has erected a stand for the old tradition and plans to put it at the south end of Buffalo Stadium where it is hoped it can remain and from that spot ring out, telling of Buffalo athletic victories.

It was originally mounted atop old Burton Gym, then moved to the top of the press box at Buffalo Stadium and later, after some of the parts to the bell had been lost, was stored away in a dressing room. The bell has a colorful history since it came off a retired engine, number 1497, which had made many thousands of trips over the United States.

With the cooperation and assistance of the Santa Fe Railroad yard in Amarillo, the Bills organization, under the direction of club president, Tommy Bishop, has restored the bell to its prominence with a new polish job, yoke and clapper and has mounted it on a steel pipe stand which was made by club member Harry Reeves assisted by Bishop and others in the club.

The railroads of this country represent the second largest industry in the United States on the basis of persons employed, according to the Labor Department. The agricultural industry ranks first, with the most persons gainfully employed. Last year the railway industry employed an average of 1,442,000 persons, compared with 920,000 in the mining industry; 856,000 in the automobile; 650,000 in steel mills and blast furnaces; 639,000 in telephone; 628,000, trucking and warehousing; 600,000 in broadweave fabrics; and 526,000 in the gas and electric utility industry.

MEAT

While cattle is going to market in increasing numbers, and farmers are getting less money for them, there is little prospect of any cut in the prices of meat in the near future. The explanation: Increasing population boosts the demand for meat and operating costs in meat processing and distribution are about 20 to 25 per cent higher than a year ago.

OCT-12-18 THIS IS OIL PROGRESS WEEK

Progress 1952

Texans have a natural interest in the oil industry, which is so important in our State, and in the progress made since Oil Progress Week was last observed.

Here are a few quick facts:

New Wells — During the twelve months ending August 31, 1952, the Texas oil industry drilled 17,000 new wells, at a cost of over $700 million. Most of the heavy expense of drilling these new wells was paid from earnings plowed back into the development of the State's oil resources.

Transportation — The total mileage of Texas' trunk pipe lines for oil and finished products is over 29,000. This low-cost transportation system is a major factor in the maintenance of the low prices you pay for petroleum products.

Production — Production has reached a record level. Texas currently is producing about 46 per cent of all the crude oil produced in the U. S. In the year ending August 31, Texas production totaled about 1,015 million barrels. There are now 133,800 producing oil wells in Texas.

Reserves — Proved oil reserves in Texas of 18 billion barrels represented 57 per cent of the U. S. total at the beginning of 1952. During 1951, the last year for which figures are available, proved reserves increased two billion barrels. These are developed oil reserves and the figure is important: developed reserves supply our needs currently and provide reserve capacity that is immediately available when we need it.

Refining — The Texas refineries will have a big year. They now employ, in round numbers, 46,000 Texans, and process about 28% of all the oil refined in the U. S. The daily refining capacity of all Texas refineries exceeds 2,000,000 barrels. A program to expand and improve these facilities has been general throughout the industry.

Taxes — The Texas oil industry continues to be the largest tax-payer in the State. Through the year ending August 31, gross production taxes alone on Texas oil and natural gas amounted to more than $137 million; in addition, the industry pays large amounts in other taxes.

HUMBLE

TEXAS OPERATIONS

Twelve Months Ending August 31, 1952

Wells Drilled	891
Average Production, in barrels daily . . .	330,100
Employees in Texas, August 31	17,775
Baytown Refinery: Average crude runs to stills, barrels daily	249,310

Humble Pipe Line Co. operates 5,895 miles of trunk lines for oil and finished products, which had transported a daily average of 722,600 barrels in the year ending August 31.

In brief, the Texas oil industry during the past year continued to do its part in meeting the demand for oil. It has expanded pipelines to provide low-cost transportation. It has improved facilities for making more and better petroleum products for your use. Today, two gallons of gasoline do work that required three gallons in 1925; and the gasoline costs no more than it did then.

Bette McGehee Crowned Thursday As "Football Queen" Of 1952 Buffs

Bette McGehee, 18-year-old freshman elementary education major from Canyon, was crowned Football Queen for 1952 by Marvin Smith and Jerry Bollen, Buffalo football squad co-captains in ceremonies at assembly

Bette is a brown eyed lass who stands five feet four and one-half inches high, with brown hair. She was a member of the 1952 graduating class of Canyon High School where she was cheerleader and annual editor. Recently she was chosen by the WT student body to serve as cheerleader for the current school year.

Bette stated that the first she heard of the selection of this year's queen was a discussion among some of the football players in the Buff Drug. Witnesses stated that it was a full ten minutes before she recovered enough to say a word.

Barbara Beck, another Canyon High School graduate of 1952, is an English major of the freshman class, stands five feet three inches tall and has blond hair, blue eyes, and is 18 years old. Like Bette, Barbara was high school cheerleader and was chosen one of the 1952 West Texas cheerleaders. She was "more than thrilled" to be elected to the court of the football queen.

Leta Cherry, a freshman who is 19 years of age, also five feet four and one-half inches tall, with blue eyes and brown hair, was also elected as attendant to the queen. Leta is an Education major who graduated from Borger High School where she had the distinction of being elected one of the 10 Most Beautiful Girls. She lives in Cousins Hall.

Another five foot four and one-half inch attendant is Mary Gunn, 19 year old senior Elementary Education major who was validictorian of her high school class at Flomot. Mary has brown hair and brown eyes, lives at Randall Hall and served as basketball queen attendant last spring. She is active in Future Teachers of America and the Buffalo Masquers. She lives at Randall Hall.

Katie Brown, 17, a sophomore, is another of the '52 attendants. Katie hails from Allison where she was cheerleader and salutitorian of the '51 high school class. Katie stands five six, and has brown hair and eyes. Katie resides at Randall also.

It is only persons of firmness that can have real gentleness.
—Rochefoucauld.

FOOTBALL ROYALTY

Where else, besides Los Angeles, could you expect to find a man who proclaims himself "an inspired philosopher and intuitionist"? (Or for that matter, where else could you find a man who could even spell that word?)

And where, other than the "City of the Angels," could you purchase a drink called potassium? (It's made of various vegetable juices).

And on the streets you can see men with long, bushy locks like musicians or frontiersmen, and beards ranging from the short kind that Robert E. Lee wore to the imperial of Louis Napoleon.

Housewives go to market with little two-wheeled carts (that are really enclosed wire baskets on end).

A sign in Culver City indicating an office below street level says, "Income tax department; watch your step." You're telling us!

Sight to see: At night, the neon lights of stores casting shimmering, many-colored reflections across the waters of the lake in Douglas MacArthur Park.

"Angel's Flight," the world's shortest street car line, one block long, in downtown Los Angeles, consists of two tiny cars (like the two buckets, one at each end of a well rope) and when one is going up the steep hill—like a fly climbing a wall—the other is coming down. The fare is a nickel.

On Wilshire Boulevard is a cafe, the Ardmore House. I must tell Hardy Murphy about this.

A grocery firm is named Smart & Final. Another odd name is that of a service station owner: Birch Caine. (That's the kind my old school-teacher used.)

Los Angeles employs fantastic, fabulous, Hollywoodish terms, such as "Miracle Mile," to describe a shopping district. Odd thing is, the term is rather accurate for it is a street of beautiful stores and shops filled with the smart, the modish, the rare. (They've even got me slinging the fancy words around.)

A small studio, specializing in passport photographs, displays a single picture a man in a battered top hat—W. C. Fields, who has migrated to the land of eternity.

Short-short story: A sign on Wilshire roads, "Theater closed; owner called back to Air Force; thanks all."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to say thank you and express heartfelt gratitude to all the people of Canyon and the surrounding area who so generously contributed to our needs following the loss of our personal belongings and household furnishings by fire.

HOME FREEZERS

Retail sales of home freezers seem destined to exceed the half-billion dollar mark this year for the first time, as manufacturers report an unexpected spurt in sales from May 1st through August 30th. The average retail price of a freezer is $379, while the average retail price for a refrigerator is only $283.

New cars planned to exceed 200 horsepower.

NOT HIS JOB

The air raid warden had been testing gas masks and had now come to the three old maids at the big house. Amelia and Jane greeted him and apologized for their sister's absence. The masks were adjusted, and the warden said: "Well, now I hope your masks are OK."

"Yes, thank you, they are," replied Amelia, "but what about our Rose's?"

The warden, taken aback, said: "Oh, that's not my job; but I think perhaps you could spray them."

A GENTLE HINT

"Did you hear about the delicate hint, Mr. Staylate got last night?"

"No, what was it?"

"Well, Edith found that looking at the clock and other familiar devices were of no avail; so she asked for some refreshments, and her mother sent in a dish of breakfast food."

NO ROUGH STUFF

A colonel of the old school was addressing two guilty looking privates whose clothes were torn and ragged.

"Look here, you fellows," he exclaimed, "I'll have you to know that I simply won't tolerate fighting in my regiment!"

THE RECORD NUMBER

For the first time in its 11 year history the Amarillo Center for West Texas State College has registered over 1000 students for one semester. Dr. Roy Boger, director of the Center, was so pleased he seemed to hurt with joy.

Dr. James P. Cornette, WT president, was on hand last Thursday evening to congratulate the 1000th student to enroll at the center for the 1952 fall semester, Mrs. David A. Pevehouse. She was designated the magic number, because her husband held the door while she entered the building.

As Dr. and Mrs. Cornette stepped in the door of the big house on Harrison Street, Dr. Boger whispered that the 999th person had received his registration cards. Mr. and Mrs. Pevehouse were next in line.

Before the registration at the Center closed Monday night enrollment for the fall semester had run over the 1050 mark, which is 100 more than were enrolled last fall. This fall's figures raise the total enrollment during the 11-year period to approximately 12,000.

An increase in number of students attending night classes at the center has been shown every year, with a sudden spurt upward in 1946. The first fall session in 1942 showed 159 persons taking courses, while in 1946, 2,288 were enrolled. Last fall, at the end of enrollment, there were 939 people bulging the Center's classrooms, and the year's total number was 1,847.

Students attending the Center receive full college credit, and quite a number of those "going to night school" have obtained West Texas State degrees. The majority of courses offered on the campus at West Texas State are available to Amarillo Center students, and the regular college professors teach the classes.

HEART-MASSAGE SAVES BOY

Chicago — Hand massage of the heart of a 4-day old baby boy was credited with saving the child's life. The baby's heart stopped beating while he was undergoing an operation in a New York hospital for a diaphragmatic hernia. Surgeons immediately made an incision in the baby's chest and began massaging the heart by hand. A heart beat, detected within a minute, returned to normal within two minutes. No brain injury because of the stopped heart has been noted in the child, now seven months old.

FISHERMEN'S WOES

Kansas City. — While Joe Stimach and Louis E. Kirshner were fishing from a boat, their wives fished from the bank at the Lake of Ozarks. Mrs. Stimach fell into the lake and Mrs. Kirshner barely managed to pull her out. Then Debora Sue Stimach, 2, threw the automobile trailer hook into the lake, which meant Stimach could not bring his boat home on that trip. Starting home, Stimach found his car's brakes were out and he had to hunt up a repairman. They caught one fish—which a turtle stole.

DISHPAN HANDS
DISHWASHER HANDS

There's a difference in hands that "do" dishes and hands that "dial" dishes. Hands that "do" dishes are often rough and red, chapped and creased and unattractive. Hands that "dial" dishes are soft and smooth, the nails are polished and pretty, and they always look beautiful and bright.

An automatic electric dishwasher — the way that lets you "dial" dishes — makes dishwashing a snap. Just scrape the dishes, stack them in the dishwasher and snap the dial.

For your hands' sake, don't "do" dishes, "dial" dishes.

Marine Band Is Coming to West Texas State October 29

The 154-year-old United States Marine Band, the oldest military symphonic musical organization in the country, will visit the West Texas State College October 29 under the auspices of the Buffalo Band as part of its tour of 17 states.

M. J. Newman, director of the WT band, has announced that matinee and evening concerts will be presented, with musical works by the world's finest composers and stirring marches which have brought the Marine Band acclaim from visiting dignitaries of almost every country in the world.

Matinee seats for the 3 p. m. concert have already been sold out, according to Newman, but plenty of tickets remain for the evening performance at 8 p. m. Evening prices are $2.00 and $1.50.

A total of 26 regional high school bands have already made reservations for the concerts, including those from Pampa, Phillips, Hale Center, Morton, Memphis, McLean, Dalhart, Abernathy, Melrose, N. M., Crosbyton, Estelline, Friona, Olton, Canyon, Amarillo, Stratford, Hereford, Plainview, Kress, White Deer, Borger, Vega, Canadian, Texhoma, Okla., and Dimmitt. A group from Panhandle A&M, Goodwell, Okla., has also made reservations.

The 1952 transcontinental tour will carry the Marine Band 10,000 miles through the eastern, midwestern, and southwestern sections of the country. It opened at Kennett Square, Pa., in September and concludes at Hopewell, Va., November 19th.

Conducted by Lt. Col. William F. Santelmann, the Marine Band is known to millions of Americans through its three weekly coast-to-coast radio broadcasts, its frequent television appearances, and its concerts in the nation's capital. The annual tours, which started under the direction of John Philip Sousa in 1891, have afforded millions of Americans to see and hear the world-famous band.

Familiarly known as "The President's Own," the Marine Band has played for every inauguration since Thomas Jefferson's. Founded in 1798 by an Act of Congress, the Band has played for all official functions in the nation's capital and all important history-making events in this country since that date.

The personnel of the Marine Band includes musicians carefully screened and selected from some of the nation's leading symphony orchestras, high school and college bands. To be accepted into the Band, an applicant must pass strenuous auditions on two instruments and undergo a rigid physical examination.

When the Band appears here on Oct. 29, it will mark the second appearance in the Panhandle of the colorful Marine musical organization. The Band played in Amarillo in the 1930's.

Some of the U. S. Military authorities in the Far East would like to use Nationalist Chinese troops in the Korean war to help lift some of the load from American boys. Mr. Truman still takes a thumbs-down attitude on that idea because some of this country's Allies think that the Chinese Communist rulers would be offended.

Military men are trying to sell politicians on the idea that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—NATO—should gradually be turned into a substitute for the United Nations. The U. N., with Russia as a member holding a veto power over any effective action, is regarded as wholly unsuited to today's world.

The U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff are getting set to ask Congress for specific authority to give Allied military commanders in Europe information about atomic weapons and their use. The idea is that forces other than U. S. will need to know how to use atomic weapons if war does come.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, successor to Eisenhower as Supreme Commander in Europe, is back in U. S. to get instruction on how to pep up Europeans to greater interest in defense. Officials believe that Ridgway, a soldier, should become more of a politician with a flair for salesmanship of ideas.

Double Ring Service and High Mass Are Read for Friemel-Wilhelm Rites

In St. Mary's church, Umbarger, Wednesday morning, Oct. 8, at 9 o'clock Miss Christina Magdalene Friemel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Friemel, became the bride of Bernard John Wilhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilhelm, of Nazareth. The double ring ceremony was witnessed by Father Andrew Marthaler, who also offered the Nuptial High Mass which followed. The High Altar held bouquets of white mums.

Roses were used on the Blessed Virgins' Altar and white dahlias were used on the Sacred Heart Altar.

Mass servers were Melvin Przilas, Johnny Beckman, Jimmy Janssen, and Lewie Raef, Jr. Miss Mary Janssen, organist, played Carl Rossisis' Processional and Recessional, and the senior choir sang the Mass, and for the Offertory sang "Pie Pelicana." Ushers were James Acker and Roman Friemel, cousin of the bride. Groomsmen were Laverne Wilhelm, brother of the groom, and Richard Friemel, cousin of the bride.

Misses Margaret Friemel, cousin of the bride, and Marcella Przilas were junior bridesmaids and wore orchid. Bridesmaids were Misses Betty Higgins and Ruth Wilhelm, cousin of the groom, and they wore rose. Their gowns were identical and were of satin and net, designed with basque waists, full skirts with net panels in the front, and short boleros. They wore matching half Dutch hats of net, studded with sequins and trimmed with velvet ribbons. They carried bouquets of asters to match their dresses.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, A. R. Friemel, wore a gown of white bridal satin and lace. The basque waist of satin had a deep lace yoke and lace sleeves, which came to a point over her hands, and a stand-up collar of lace. The lace formed a wide panel down the front and back of the full skirt, which was worn over a hoop and extended into a full train. Tiny satin covered buttons were used at the wrists and down the back to the waistline.

Her two tiered veil of scalloped illusion was attached to a tiara of mock orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis, tied with blue and white streamers. At the close of Mass, the bride was presented with a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary by Misses Anna Hoffman and Barbara Raef. The bride presented a flower from her bouquet to the statue of the Blessed Virgin and with the attendants recited the "Hail Mary," the "Memorare," and the Act of Consecration to the Immaculate Heart of Mary."

The wedding party were breakfast guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Friemel. A dinner was served at noon in the home of the bride. A reception, also in the home of the bride, honored the couple in the afternoon. The three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was decorated with swans and orchid tinted flowers. Miss Mary Janssen presided at the guest book. A dance in Columbus Club Hall was held in the evening.

Mrs. Friemel chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue suit with black accessories. Mrs. Wilhelm, mother of the bridegroom, chose a black crepe dress with black accessories. They each wore a white carnation corsage.

The bride is a graduate of D'Hanis High School. She was a member of St. Mary's senior choir and was Sodality Perfect at the time of her marriage. The groom is a graduate of Nazareth High School and is engaged in farming.

After a trip to an unnannounced destination, the couple will live in Colorado where the bridegroom has farming interests.

Assisting with the house party were Mesdames Bill Bauer, Geo. Brockman, Max Hoffman, Marian Majors, Joe Wieck, Vincent Friemel, and Misses Catherine Koch, Helena Westhoff, and Theresa Batenhorst.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. W. H. Lewis for the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lewis and children and Mrs. Ola C. Yearout, all of Albuquerque, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Nunley and sons spent last week-end in Dallas visiting relatives and attending the Fair.

Dear Priscilla:

Well, Homecoming is over, together with the last minute rush for hats, gloves, date dresses, etc. We were busy right up to game time — Suppose Nancy wrote you about everything — Our handmade original scarves by Vera came this morning and they are even more fabulous than I told you, which seems impossible I know. Wish you could see the window we made, but we are sending over a selection of Vera — "Spring Tips," (head scarves to you) just wanted to prove to you that you can be glamourous in these instead of going around with your head tied up like a wash woman when it is windy or cold.

In a rush as usual —

Lions Hear Songs And Report at Lunch Wednesday

Bill Sternenberg had charge of the Lions program Wednesday. The program was divided into two parts. One was a sort of business session and the other the entertainment section.

The entertainment portion of the program consisted of songs by a male quartet from Amarillo High School's Bel Canto Chorale. The other part of the program was on the activities concerning the crippled childrens camp at Kerrville. The Lions are giving a considerable sum of money toward the building of a crippled childrens camp.

The members of the male quartet who entertained the Lions were Gordon Todd, Kent Gathright, Bob Nance, and Billy Jack Moore. The quartet sang four selections. They were "Cruising in My Model-T," "Mood Indigo," "Bye, Bye Blues," and "Goodbye My Coney Island Baby."

The Lions also entertained four guests. They were Buddy Hudson of Canyon, Mr. Weeks of Amarilla, James McInis of Austin, and Geo. Stevens of the Navy who recently returned from Korea.

Two new members were initiated by the Lions. They were Richmond Hales and L. S. Johnston.

The club also agreed to make up a team to oppose the Aggies at the college in a donkey ball game. Proceeds from this game will go toward construction of a rodeo arena at the college. The Lions had previously agreed to meet the Rotary Club in a game of touch football.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Howard and son, Pat, of Shamrock visited in the Silas Hart home and attended Homecoming at WTSC.

Bubbling excitement among West Texas State College students marked last week as another successful Homecoming at WTSC. There appeared to be more western garb worn by students this year than previously. There also appeared to be a few more dunkings in the horse tank than usual. By way of the grapevine we learned that Billie Moore was one of those students to receive a damp chilling via the horse tank at the west end of the Administration Building.

Another memorial occasion during Homecoming week was the Regents' Day. Dedication of some of the college's new buildings made this an occasion to remember. One of the most important events in the dedication was that of the Joseph A. Hill Chapel for Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus of the college. Last week was a great week both for Canyon and the college and it will be long remembered as such.

The excerpt from the letter of Joyce Hill this week is taken from her letter dated September 16. She explains something of the church services held there in Cuba. She writes, "Both the English and Spanish speaking people are served by the church, resulting in three church services a week. I've attended the Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting earlier this afternoon. It is the only organized English speaking society on a foreign mission field and it has been in operation since the founding of the church 50 years ago. Some of the members are here for retirement, some for health, but most of their husbands are in business here." Miss Hill goes on to explain that so far she has learned little of the activities of these people.

This week in our visiting student slot we have a married couple. They are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gray who have been married one year on November 4th. Darlene and Oscar are both juniors at West Texas State College and both plan to teach when their college work is completed. Of course there is one little matter that might postpone Oscar's teaching career and that is military service.

Darlene is a speech major while Oscar majors in radio speech and physical education. In speaking of her career after college Darlene said she planned to continue her work with speech, drama and make-up. She is a member of the Buffalo Masquers and Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary speech fraternity.

Although Oscar is from Shamrock and Darlene from McLean, she relates that they knew each other only slightly before meeting at West Texas State. She is a transfer student from North Texas State College while Oscar has been at WTSC since his freshman year. Both husband and wife enjoy their work at WTSC.

In the near future Darlene will be directing one of the Masquer's productions. It's a one act play titled, "Undercurrent." Last year she was selected as the most beautiful girl on the campus but recently it seems that her beauty has dimmed slightly in the eyes of her husband. She had her long brunette hair trimmed and it came out rather short and it seems that her husband needed a little time to get over the change.

Well, here's another one of those cases of going from the sublime to the ridiculous. In leaving our visiting students of the week we run head-on into that department again, yep, it's time for chirps of wisdom.

by HUGH WILLIAMSON

A very great deal has been written and said in the last few weeks about whether Texans should or should not split their ticket in the November 4 election.

I am not going to undertake to answer that question for anyone, but I would like to examine the contention that a Democrat should vote the ticket straight; or, for that matter, that a Republican should vote his ticket straight.

The things I am going to say here apply in the election this year — they would apply in any year. I think the principles and the logic are good, whether applied to Democrats or Republicans; whether applied to the election this year or any other year.

A party's leadership does not advocate voting the ticket straight in areas where there are many independent voters. To do so would be to antagonize millions of independent voters, thereby jeopardizing the party's chances for victory.

The independent voters cast their ballots one time this way, one time another. Both parties woo them. Nobody asks them to vote the way their father did — nobody asks them to vote the way they did last time (unless their choice last time is known). "Splitting" the ticket is a familiar process to these voters. They may like a Democrat for President, a Republican for Governor of their State, a Labor Party man for Attorney General, an Independent for Lieutenant Governor, and so on.

The purpose of elections is to find out the will of the people. If a voter is the captive of a party, then it is impossible to find out what that voter's choices in an election are. He does not express his will if he votes the ticket straight no matter how little he may like certain of the party's nominees or how little he may like the party's platform or its record in office.

There is nothing in the law to dictate to a citizen how he shall cast his vote. On the other hand, his freedom of selection is protected by law.

He may "split" his ticket as he pleases, he may vote the ticket straight, he may vote for the candidates of any number of parties, or he may make out his own list of candidates. He may vote as he likes, and his vote will be counted if he votes in a way to make his choices understandable.

One particular question is involved. Citizens who vote in the Democratic primaries want to know whether they are bound by a pledge to support the national Democratic nominees.

The answer is that they pledge themselves to support "the nominees of this primary." The nominees of the national Democratic party do not appear on the ballots of those primaries. Therefore the voters are unpledged so far as their choice of a President and Vice President are concerned.

In next month's election, all Texans are free to vote for Eisenhower and Nixon if they so desire — and they should so vote if they believe that the Republican nominees are the best men for the offices they seek.

By the same token, Texans who prefer Stevenson and Sparkman should vote for those candidates — and that applies to Republicans as well as Democrats.

For the principle that I have tried to explain here works both ways. There is nothing to prevent a Republican from voting for the Democratic candidates if he so chooses, just as there is nothing to prevent a Democrat from voting for a Republican, if that expresses the voter's will.

Expression of the people's will, I would like to repeat, is the reason for elections.

Buffs Trample N. M. A&M 45-7 Homecoming Tilt

Coach Frank Kimbrough's thundering Herd thumped the New Mexico Aggies 45-7 Saturday afternoon to give the West Texas State College alumni a more glorious Homecoming. One of the most thrilling plays of the game came early in the first quarter when Orville Copeland carried the ball 79 yards for the first Buffalo TD.

The Buffaloes were driving for the north goal and the wind was from the northeast. This probably had a lot to do with the kick for extra point going wide. A second touchdown was made during the first quarter of play and again the kick was no good so when the Aggies and the Buffs went into the second period of play the score stood at 12 for the Buffs and 0 for the Aggies.

When the Buffaloes were running for the south goal they had the wind in their favor. During this quarter of play the Aggies showed their best form during the entire game. The Buffs made only one touchdown but they converted this time to make the score stand at 19 for the Buffs and 0 for the Aggies.

During the third quarter of play the Buffs were back down on the north end of the field. They made one touchdown but failed to convert. The Herd cut loose during the final quarter of play and rolled up 19 more points. It was also during this quarter that the Aggies made their one TD and conversion.

The Buffaloes now have two straight victories to their credit and one loss. They dropped their opener to the Tech Red Raiders. The Buffs meet the Arizona State at Tempe team is next in line for the Buffs in a night game at Tempe Saturday night.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES W. GAMMON

Before an altar centered with a bouquet of bronze mums flanked by seven branched candelabra decorated with autumn leaves and bearing avocado green tapers, Letha Harwood, daughter of Mrs. G. W. Harwood, became the bride of James W. Gammon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gammon of Friona.

Joe F. Watson, minister of the Canyon Church of Christ, read the double ring ceremony in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College at 7:30 in the evening, Friday, October 10.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. J. D. Barker played appropriate selections and for the processional and recessional she played the traditional wedding marches. "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, played softly, formed the musical background for the marriage pledges.

Miss Ruth Ann Soll, wearing a beige wool suit with forest green accessories and corsage of pink China mums, was maid of honor and only attendant to the bride.

Billy John Jennings was the best man. Elmer Mickey and Blake Zachry were ushers.

Given in marriage by her brother, Bill Harwood, the bride was dressed in a pink suit with pink velour hat, black accessories and wore a white orchid corsage.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Harwood wore a gray suit and white China mums. Mrs. Gammon, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brown suit. Her corsage was pink China mums.

LIPSTICK LOGIC
BY LOUISE ALLEN

Personal letters have almost gone the way of the tandem bicycle, a casualty of twentieth century life. And while the personal correspondence of history's "greats" is often preserved and reread, that between ordinary folks today would be about as interesting as a file of old grocery lists, even if anyone cared enough to do more than glance at it on the way to the wastebasket.

The telephone, the telegraph, and the airplane have just about dissolved the need for long distance contacts by way of the United States mail. The occasional letter between family members or friends is likely to take the form of a terse note, on paper cut down to a size that forestalls anything but the necessary words. Any attempt to express personal philosophy, or to comment on current events, would be looked upon as queer.

Once in awhile someone who is seeing new and interesting places will typewrite a chronicle of events, with carbon copies — about as personal as the newsreels we see of the same distant lands.

One of the sweetest experiences we can recall is receiving an old-fashioned letter from an aunt whom we loved. Her image had been set in childhood: a cheerful, tolerant somebody who cooked good things to eat. In that letter, she became another woman — gentle and modest, alive to beauty, and reaching toward us as a friend.

We cherish the few persons who still take the time to write a sure enough letter in longhand. The harder it is to read, the more keenly alive does its sender become. And as we puzzle over "s's" that look like "r's," and a word that might be "gepl," it's as though the friend who wrote it is sitting across the table watching, and smiling with a quizzical smile.

The Priority of Loyalties?

J. L. Duflot, Retired Professor of Sociology, West Texas State

Which comes first, loyalty to party, or loyalty to one's country? When this loaded question is so stated, the thoughtless man instantly answers, "Loyalty to one's country, of course." This is the answer Governor Shivers has repeatedly given to this question, but I doubt that his is a thoughtless one.

Every thinking man must see through the artifice of the Governor's appeal to Texas democrats to place loyalty to their country above loyalty to their party. He is virtually telling us that these loyalties are incompatible; that one cannot be loyal to the Democratic Party and at the same time be loyal to his country. Undoubtedly, this is a very clever political trick contrived to divide the Democratic Party and lead it captive into the hands of the Republicans.

As a matter of fact there is no priority in loyalties between one's party and one's country. It is only through the party system in a democracy that the individual citizen can preserve his freedom, secure his rights, and promote the general welfare. A man's country is no greater than the political party to which he belongs. Each party stands for certain principles which its members believe will promote good government. Loyalty to good government is loyalty to one's country. Hence, it is axiomatic to say that good government cannot be achieved except through affiliation with some party organization. The individual alone cannot do it.

A political party is the only agency in a democracy through which the ordinary citizen can exert an influence in the formulation of public policies, in the selection of competent men to enact them into law, and to apply these laws to the social, economic, and moral needs of the people. Loyalty to one's party which seeks to realize these worthy objectives is an unequivocal loyalty to one's country. Hence, these loyalties are not incompatible. On the contrary, they are identical. The organic unity of party and national interests is as inseparable as that of a tree and its fruit. One cannot exist without the other.

A homely illustration should make this principle of identical loyalties abundantly clear. We immediately suspect a man's motives when he declares he owes his first loyalty to his home rather than to his wife. He must have a philandering eye on another woman. A spouse and a home are not incompatible. You cannot be loyal to the one without being loyal to the other; nor disloyal to the one without being disloyal to the other. A home is not a place. It is a state of mind. Its temper may range from extreme happiness to extreme unhappiness. In any case, the spouse is equivalent to the home and the home to the spouse.

What clandestine motives does Shivers hold when he implies that loyalty to one's party is incompatible to loyalty to one's country? I personally doubt that he really believes that the two loyalties are incompatible. What he is actually offering is that the interest of his country and all the principles of the Republican Party are identical. Furthermore, according to the Shivers logic, any democrat who will place the principles of the Democratic Party above those of the Republican Party is disloyal to his country.

Governor Shivers is a very ambitious man. He believes in the principles of the Republican Party which has always championed the cause of entrenched privilege. The monetary power of Houston is equal to that of Wall Street. It is the greatest oil center not only of America but of the world. Texas produces approximately 43 per cent of all the crude oil in the United States. The oil tycoons of Houston are running the politics of Texas. Should Eisenhower be elected, Governor Shivers and his side-kick Price Daniel would become powerful figures in the distribution of federal jobs in Texas and in influencing both state and national legislation favoring their wealthy clients. Perhaps this is the reward that inspired him to conceive the emotionalized phrase "country first, party second" idea to carry Texas for the Republican Party.

I have no quarrel with any man whether he be a republican or a former democrat who votes the Republican ticket because he believes in the principles of the Republican Party. The freedom to vote one's convictions or to change his party loyalty is a fundamental democratic principle that should be defended even unto death. It is the purpose of this article to expose the cunning tactics employed by the nominal leaders of the Democratic Party in Texas who seek to identify loyalty to one's country with loyalty to the Republican Party hoping thereby to exploit the patriotic sentiments of unwary democrats.

When Hitler was at the height of his power, I would get up at 4 o'clock in the mornings to hear him rave over the radio. He emphasized in nearly every speech the necessity of his people giving their first loyalty to their country and belittled the party organizations of the democracies by comparing them to barn-yard chatter.

The first step to fascism is to create distrust in party organizations as instrumentalities for promoting the general welfare. What more ingenious device could be invented to accomplish this end than the indoctrination of the "country first, party second" concept of government?

Seven New Teachers Join CHS Faculty

With the Canyon High School faculty this year is seven new instructors. These instructors are teaching in the fields of home economics, industrial arts, English, science, and sports.

Eddie Conner is a 1952 graduate of West Texas State College and is in the position of assistant coach. He did not teach last year. The factors that interested him in Canyon High School are the football spirit and school system. He likes everything about CHS and believes a new building will improve our school.

Sidney P. Burgess taught at West Texas State College last year and teaches woodworking and driver's education. He likes the fine school spirit and the way the students take care of the building and equipment. He believes the school can be improved by offering more courses that would supplement the needs of students that do not plan to enter college. To have a better tie between the school and the community would help improve Canyon High.

Mrs. L. B. Penick comes to CHS from Tulia High School. She teaches homemaking I and II and homemaking in the junior high level.

She says she has worked with FHA'ers in this area for a number of years and has always found the Canyon girls to be among the best, is one reason for her coming to Canyon. Mrs. Penick likes the way students conduct themselves in the halls and in assemblies and thinks Canyon High can be improved by getting larger homemaking laboratories.

Mrs. Clara B. Long teaches homemaking and comes from Commerce, Texas. She says she likes the climate and friends who urged her to come is why she is here. By making the most of what we have, and by using our equipment as if it belonged to us, personally, is one way Canyon High can be improved and she also likes the friendliness and standard of citizenship displayed.

Mrs. George W. Lee teaches general science and chemistry in CHS and comes from Silverton, Texas, and the factors that interested her were school reputation and school spirit. Now that she is here she likes the friendliness of CHS but thinks that a larger building and more equipment is needed.

Miss Mary E. Carter teaches English III, English I, remedial English, and general mathematics. She comes from Childress High School and came to Canyon because of its reputation as a progressive school. Also because its location in a college town which facilitates the "pursuit of higher knowledge" for faculty members. Miss Carter likes the friendly, cooperative spirit of the students and faculty of CHS.

She thinks that every school or business of any kind can be improved. "Perhaps the best way to improve our school is for each individual in the school to work his maximum accomplishment," says Miss Mary E. Carter.

Mrs. Ray Schultz is also a new member of the faculty of Canyon High School. This is her first year to have a full schedule, but prior to this she has had some business classes.

William T. Enjue, Wisconsin editor and publisher: "Communism has become the perfect scare-word with which the entrenched order can bluff the American people into submission and conformity."

Marie Stopes, beauty adviser: "You can take no credit for beauty at 16, but if you are beautiful at 60, it will be your own soul's doing."

Robert M. Hutchins, University president: "Democracy has not failed; the intelligence of the race has failed before the problems the race has raised."

Milton Young, U. S. Senator from North Dakota: "Congress must increase either the salaries or the expense accounts—or a poor man cannot stay in Congress."

Vannevar Bush, president, Carnegie Institute of Washington: "Russia has tested three atom bombs . . . and she can develop the means of delivering them."

With malice towards none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right. —Abraham Lincoln.

Fee splitting between physicians and surgeons was denounced by the American College of Surgeons as a "dishonest and unethical" practice.

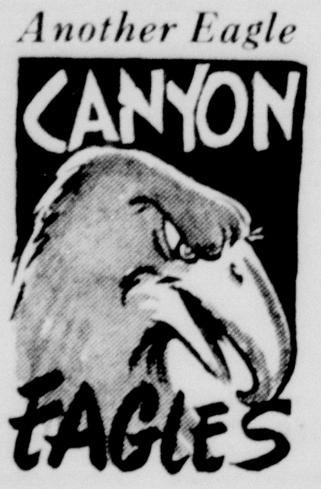
The Eagle's Tale

Yea Eagles! Circle the Cyclones

27th Year | Published by The Canyon News for Canyon High School | Wednesday, October 15, 1952

Another Eagle



Kids, how do you like our new cartoon? Hut Hutson, noted High Plains sports cartoonist, is the creator of the symbol.

I like it because:

Pride swells within me when I look at the symbol and realize I am part of that organization which supports those Canyon Eagles. In fact, I am one of those Eagles. When we say we are the "Eagles" do we ever stop to think about the qualifications of being an "Eagle" . . . the qualities the Eagle symbolizes . . . power, grandeur, courage, poise, and efficiency. Can we fulfill the qualities?

It adds to our school paper. No paper is complete without the balance, color, and finish of a cartoon or picture in every issue.

It is an inspiration and support to our football or basketball players. They are sure that we are backing them, when they see this symbol in our school paper. We must ascertain that this feeling coordinates our unity and cooperation with them, and every beneficial unit of our high school.

It injects power and vigor into every tiny part of our school life. It is an ardent part of school spirit.

We thank Mr. Hutson for the drawing that will symbolize pride, inspiration, power, unity, and finish to our school life, and those activities which are part of our school life, throughout this year, and many more to come.

Carrying Your Load?

Are you carrying your load? We, as members of Canyon High are responsible for keeping our school in the top category.

Are you, as a member of CHS, helping care for our school? Or are you the one who leaves his coat hanging on his locker door? Are you the one who throws papers in the hall and sticks gum under the desks? Are you the one who sits on the grass at noon and tramps it into the ground? Oh, No! You couldn't be the one who slings ink on the walls!

Or are you?

If so, then, are you carrying your load? I know that there are very few who do not cooperate in helping the majority that do keep Canyon High on top.

Let us all remember, CHS is a top ranking school. We should be proud of it; most of us are. Are you helping keep our building at the heighth of cleanliness, beauty, and prosperity? Think about it!

Ethel Louise Riddle, W.C.T.U. officer: "Youngsters in drinking homes argue that 'mom and pop' get drunk, so why can't we?"

Congratulations, CHS exes, Bette McGehee and Barbara Beck! Bette was chosen WT Football Queen for the 1952 Buffaloes. Barbara was one of the attendants. Incidentally, both freshmen are WT cheerleaders.

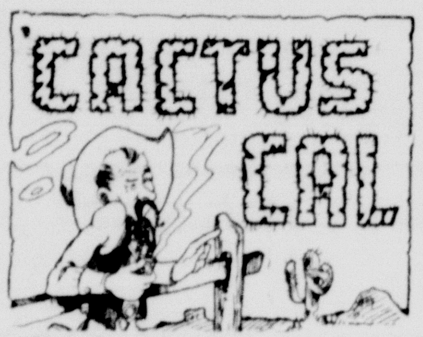
Peggy Bonds Is FFA Sweetheart

Elected FFA Sweetheart for 1952 and 1953 is Peggy Bonds, Canyon High School senior, at a call meeting of the chapter Wednesday, Oct. 8.

Peggy rode on the FFA float in the Homecoming parade with her attendants, Laura Smith and June Wortham. She will be awarded an FFA jacket as a symbol of her post and will be presented at the Father and Son banquet next spring.

Peggy's offices and honors in her high school days are: Freshman class treasurer, football queen attendant for two years, forward on the Eaglettes team for four years, cheerleader for two years, junior class favorite, junior class candidate for Halloween Queen, and member of the Junior Play cast.



"You don't know! Then it is too late to tell," was the first reply Cal got the other day when he was trying to find out why the white shirts and bow ties were swaggering up and down the halls of CHS.

Cal resolved he was going to solve the mystery. He asked several boys in hopes he could find the real reason for this unusual thing, but only got foolish answers. Finally one boy had the heart to tell him, "The boys were just trying to bring 'class' into dear old CHS."

ATTENTION FRESHMEN!

Have you got your new tuxedos and formals yet? If you have not you had better hurry because freshmen initiation is this week. If you are afraid of getting these tuxes and formals soiled by carrying old smashed worms in your pockets and dead fish tied around your neck, then maybe the seniors will let you wear your pajamas. That is, if you persuade them with home made candy and carry their books to all their classes. You will have to hurry since you have to get to your own class before the last bell rings.

This is not so bad though. If you are lucky you will get off easy with carrying eggs in your pockets and wearing raw liver between your toes.

Oh! and another thing, be ready to bite the dust every time a senior yells "filibuster."

JOE A. GIBSON
. . . Superintendent

"I am enjoying my work as superintendent of the public schools of Canyon more than words will permit me to express. I have good reason to believe that we have one of the best school programs to be found anywhere, for the benefit of the children and the youth of our school district. I am deeply impressed by the friendliness, cooperation, and progressive spirit found among students, school personnel and patrons," says Joe A. Gibson, new superintendent of the Canyon public schools.

Mr. Gibson comes from Childress where he was connected with the public school system for 19 years. He went to Childress as an instructor of mathematics. He served as athletic coach for a number of years; later became school principal. For the past seven years he has been superintendent of the schools. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and took his M.A. degree from Texas Tech.

Mr. Gibson has been a member of the Lions Club for 20 years, and has served as president of his club and as Zone chairman.

Juniors Complete Magazine Sales

Billie Graham, Ted Lowe, and Larry Porter are top salesmen! Norman Tucek and Martha McBroom are runners-up. Their total sales in the junior magazine drive is as follows: Billie—$383; Ted—$206.50; Larry—$205.50; Norman—$136; Martha—$133.50.

Total sales reached by the entire class were $3261.60. After prizes had been bought, and a check sent to the Curtis Magazine Company, there was a profit of $1026.53.

Money was also deducted for the nickel grabs. The last one Doris Bourn "grabbed" $2.70.

The five top prizes were ordered and are not in as yet. Everyone is eager for that time when Billie, Ted, and Larry will receive Zenith radio-clocks, and Norman and Martha will be rewarded with Gruen watches.

Floats Represent School in Parade

Colorful streamers of crepe paper, beautiful girls, and handsome boys adorned the floats from Canyon High School in the West Texas State Homecoming parade Saturday.

Several Canyon High clubs and organizations were represented in this annual affair. The FFA club Sweetheart, Peggy Bonds, and her attendants, June Wortham and Laura Smith, and an agricultural float represented the Future Farmers of America.

The FHA float was a "Toast to the Exes," with Janelda Cunningham, Carlene Morton, Peggy Sewell, Lynn McKinney, Jane Rose, Anna Marie Barker, Sarah Colwell, and Elaine Cundiff giving the toast.

The Spanish club float was an Xochimilco romance represented by Barry Clark, Clydeen Mitchell, Ray Green, Joy Mayberry, and Daniel Parker. The high school band performed in the parade also.

CHS Eagles Tie Olton Mustangs in Fourth Non-Conference Battle, 7-7

Before an estimated crowd of 2,500, the favored Olton Mustangs were held back by the Canyon Eagles by a score of 7-7 Friday evening in the Olton Memorial Stadium. This was the fourth non-conference game played by the Eagles with a record of two wins, one loss, and one tie.

The Mustangs chose to receive the kickoff and brought the ball back to Canyon's five yard line with a series of passes and sharp, penetrating ground plays. Johnny Durham took the ball and ran around left end for the first touchdown. R. V. Allearn made the extra point for Olton.

The Eagles touchdown came early in the second quarter with R. A. Burgess carrying around the left end to score. He made the extra point also.

The Eagles and Mustangs both held their own the last half of the game.

Olton made 160 yards rushing during the game with five first downs. Canyon's yardage rushing was 256 with 11 first downs.

The Eagles are working hard this week on head on blocking and tackling, which they are a little weak on.

Harold Brannan Is CYC Guest Speaker

A senior at Texas Tech, Harold Brannan, was speaker for a series of three meetings, October 5-6-7, for the membership drive of the Canyon Christian Youth Council.

There were many people who never know what CCYC was until they attended the series of meetings, the first of which was 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church. Bette McGehee installed the officers of the organization, who are: President, Dorothy Neblett; vice-president, Tom Middleton; secretary, Frances Cunningham; treasurer, Dorothy Cleavinger; publicity chairmen, Camilla Davis and David Miller. Representatives for each of the different churches were appointed.

Monday night at 7:30 p. m. the Presbyterian Church was the place of gathering for the second meeting. Dorothy Neblett opened the program and introduced Harold Brannan who gave an interesting talk concerning every Christian.

The last and largest in attendance of the three sessions was held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday night in the Methodist Church. Eighty persons attended and a large offering was collected for CCYC funds. Tom Middleton presided over the meeting and Harold Brannan spoke to the group.

Activities in the fellowship halls of each of the three churches provided recreation directed by Cecil Massey and Dennis Lyle. Refreshments were served by members of the CCYC.

476 Students Take School Insurance

Insurance for only one dollar was the bargain offered to the students of Canyon schools by the American Casualty Company of Reading, Pa., in which 476 students subscribed. There were 101 high school students, 161 WT Elementary students, and 214 Canyon Grade students.

The insurance provides for indemnity for hospitalization and an accidental death benefit of $1,000, as well as blanket indemnities for medical and dental treatment of accidental injuries. Coverage is provided for injury in any supervised school activity, except Interscholastic activities. Coverage includes injury while going directly to and from school.

Bats do not lay eggs, but give birth to their young, alive.

Choruses Present Initial Concert

"Whistle a Happy Tune," by Rodgers was the first number on a program presented to the Canyon High student body by the high school choir last Tuesday, October 14.

Miss Ada V. Clark, director of the choir, announced the numbers prior to selections. "The Brown Bird Singing" by Wood, and "On the Sea" by Morrison were other selections presented by the girls ensemble following the opening number.

"America the Beautiful," a cantata by Wilson, was sung by the high school choir. A number of songs made up this selection and it was the largest performance of the whole assembly.

Eighty-five students participated in the concert. The audience appreciated the program.

"Love's Old Sweet Song" by Molly, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" by Bland, and "Louisiana Hayride" by Dietz and Schwartz, were numbers by the choir that thrilled the audience and brought wild applause.

Miss Clark states that students are invited to come into choral work. If you are interested, go in and see Miss Clark. She will try to work music into your schedule.

Yearbook Staff Selects '52 Editor

"Soaring Wings" elected Elaine Cundiff, editor; Janie Jennings, assistant editor; Camilla Davis, art editor; Virginia Holt, assistant art editor; Carol Rose, copy editor; Frances Cunningham, photography editor; Lawrence Hermesmeyer, business manager; and Shirley Glenn, assistant business manager. Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore is the sponsor.

Ideas for the make up of the yearbook were obtained at the annual clinic held in Austin Sept. 29, 30, and October 1. Elaine Cundiff, Virginia Holt, and Mrs. Gilmore attended this clinic. It was sponsored by the Steck Company of Austin.

Pictures for the annual are already being taken. Freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes, and faculty pictures were made by Britain's studio. Tom Knighton and J. T. Harp took some action pictures of the different courses.

The staff has been busy the past week soliciting ads with the business firms of Canyon. The business men have been very cooperative with the annual staff in this manner.

Subscriptions for the 1953 yearbook, "Soaring Wings," will begin soon, so get your dollars ready students.

A trip to the Pampa Homecoming was made by the Canyon High School band, October 13.

The band left for Pampa before school began Monday morning. A 20 minute concert was given at 11 o'clock on a downtown Pampa street corner. The band marched in a gigantic parade at 2:30 p. m. Immediately following the parade the band returned to Canyon, arriving at 6 o'clock.

CHS CITIZENS SUPPORT EAGLES BEFORE EAGLE-MUSTANG TILT

"Have you got that spirit?" The students of Canyon High seemed to have that spirit in a pep rally on the front steps of the Canyon High School building Friday noon.

The enthusiastic students gave a boisterous "We've got the TEAM team," to boost the morale of the team. Cheerleaders led the students in singing the "Eagles Fight Song" to end the meeting.

WT Student Union Receives Boost From "Sympathetic" College Board

Members of the student body and faculty of West Texas State College who were gathered for the annual Homecoming assembly Thursday were told that the state teachers college Board of Regents were "in harmony and sympathy" with a drive underway here for a new student union building.

John C. Calhoun, Corsicana regent who is chairman of the West Texas State Committee of the board, stayed over following "Regents' Day" activities here Wednesday in order to make the announcement. His pledge to put in motion proposals for the union at the next board meeting drew thunderous cheers from the more than 1,000 present.

A committee of three students, headed by Sid Bayless, student body president from Canadian, petitioned aid from the regents at their business session Wednesday morning.

Calhoun said that he "semi-officially" announced the regents' support, and that although no definite date could be set, "I hope we get it in the very near future."

According to Bayless the regents did not go inside the present union building, but merely drove by, looking it over from the outside. Students had been waiting all Wednesday afternoon for the inspection in order to learn what the verdict of the board would be.

Bayless said, "We are all going to have to work real hard for the months to come in order to speed up the process of starting construction and realizing our present dreams for a new building."

Since no state money is available for the building, Calhoun urged that the campaign here be intensified. Beverly Beck, Canyon, president of Buffalo Gals, said that immediate plans include a booth for funds collection during Homecoming

U. S. Public Health Service Approves Texas State Plan

The annual revision of the Texas State Plan for construction of hospitals and public health centers has been approved by the U. S. Public Health Service said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It has as its objective, under the provisions of the Hill-Burton Act, the development of an inter-related system of general hospitals and related institutions which will be made available to all the citizens of the state without discrimination as to race, creed, color, or financial resources, looking toward a broadened program of medical service covering all categories of illness.

The development of public health centers and related facilities for the provision of community public health services is also taken into consideration.

The over-all Plan is based on information obtained from a comprehensive hospital survey and from additional data gained from supplementary surveys and from experience in the operation of the Plan during the past four years. It provides for minimum standards of construction, operation and maintenance of hospitals and recommends type, size and locations of facilities needed.

The plan meets all of the requirements relative to planning set forth in the state and federal statutes and regulations. The general manner in which priority of projects is determined conforms with the principles contained in Public Law 725. Insofar as it has been practicable, the Plan has been developed in a manner to maintain a proper balance, reflecting the proportionate need, for each of the five categories of facilities; namely, general, mental, tuberculosis, chronic diseases, health centers and related facilities.

Priorities for general hospital service areas have been determined on the percentage of bed needs already met in relation to the population as indicated in U. S. Census of 1950.

Copies of the Revised State Plan have already been widely distributed to state and county authorities and to chambers of commerce and other organizations and associations throughout the state. An approved copy of the Plan is available at all times in the office of the State Department of Health for public examinations.

TURN-ABOUT'S FAIR PLAY

Tampa, Fla. — When the Hillsborough County Bar Association requested that Judge L. A. Grayson wear a robe when he holds court, the judge complied. Then, the judge ordered that all lawyers coming before him must wear coats and ties.

Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican Presidential candidate: "Our forefathers proved that only a people strong in Godliness is a people strong enough to overcome tyranny."

The Most Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury: "True education is a matter of contact between mind and mind, where misunderstanding can be corrected as you go."

Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate: "I do not, I have not, nor will I condone, excuse or explain away wrongdoing or moral obliquity in public office . . ."

Herbert Agar, author of "A Declaration of Faith": "Civilizations, like men and women, must have a moral purpose or die of sheer boredom."

William E. Jenner, U. S. Senator from Indiana: "If there is a truce (in Korea) before the election, it will be a Russian truce, and will be only for campaign purposes."

Pragmatic philosophy reasons that "if it works, it's good."

'53 PROSPECTS

Production trends point to a slimmer diet of dairy products, eggs, poultry and pork next year, with beef being the only livestock food that will hold its own with this year's supply. Rising feed costs are given as the cause of the expected decline.

HARDY PERENNIAL

An American manufacturer reports that, within a recent year, he turned out and sold no less than 20,000,000 checker-boards. Evidently the venerable game of draughts, in competition with motion pictures, motoring, radio, football and baseball, is holding its own.

WONDERS OF SCIENCE

That Johns Hopkins chemist who has made motor exhaust fumes innocuous might now turn his attention to making them smell like fried chicken.

"NIZE LADY"

Chicago woman "who shot at a cop, mistaking him for her husband, has now apologized to the officer. Her innocence of motive being thus established, she should be turned loose at once.
